Advisory Business

Oliver Financial Planning, LLC has been in business since 2005. Rob Oliver is 100% owner and principal of the firm.

We provide hourly, as-needed financial planning and investment advisory services to individuals and families on a Fee-Only basis. These services may be general in nature or focused on a particular area of interest or need depending on each client's unique circumstances.

Our investment advisory services are tailored for each client. We do not directly manage or monitor your investments, nor do we have discretion over or custody of your assets. Rather, we provide investment recommendations for you to implement using mutual funds and exchange-traded funds with a preference for those that follow an index.

Our investment advice is focused on helping you determine and choose the appropriate target percentages (i.e. asset allocation) and specific investments for your portfolio. We can provide specific instructions on how to reallocate your investment accounts but you are responsible for implementation. We do not make trades on your behalf. We encourage you to meet with us on an annual basis to get instructions on rebalancing your portfolio to its target percentages. You are responsible for initiating these reviews.

In addition to our investment advisory services, we provide financial planning services on topics such as retirement planning, college savings, cash flow and debt management, work benefits, estate and incapacity planning, and insurance.

We begin working with new clients through a New Client Planning Session. This initial engagement consists of a two-hour meeting covering the topics of your choice. You receive verbal advice from Rob Oliver during the meeting followed by a written summary of the recommendations provided during the meeting.

After you have completed a New Client Planning Session, you can request our services at any time. We discuss and agree upon the scope of each subsequent engagement at the time you request service. Each engagement is concluded when we provide you with recommendations. We have no responsibility to provide you with advice between engagements. We encourage periodic reviews but it is your choice and responsibility to initiate them.

Fees and Compensation

We charge for our services on a fixed fee or hourly basis. New clients are charged a fixed fee of $650 for an initial New Client Planning Session, which is described above in Section 1 – Advisory Services. After the New Client Planning Session, returning clients are billed on an hourly basis in six-minute increments.

Our current hourly rates are $190 per hour for Certified Financial Planner™ professionals and $95 per hour for Paraplanners. Our fees are not negotiable but we may provide discounts at our discretion. If you terminate an engagement prior to its completion, we will refund any unearned, pre-paid fees within twenty days of receiving your written termination notice.

If you follow our investment advice, you may also incur separate fees and expenses that are charged by mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds. We recommend that you review each investment prospectus for a complete explanation of these fees and expenses. In addition, you may incur separate transaction costs or administration fees from brokerage firms. We recommend that you obtain a complete schedule of fees from your brokerage firm. We do not receive any portion of these other fees. We do not receive commissions or third-party payments of any kind. The only compensation we receive is directly from you for our fixed or hourly fees.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

We do not earn fees based on the performance of your assets. Our only compensation is the fixed and hourly-based fees paid directly by you described above in Item 5.

Types of Clients

Oliver Financial Planning, LLC primarily serves individuals and families. We typically require new clients to begin with a New Client Planning Session for a flat fee of $650. We have no other minimum or ongoing requirements of our clients. Our services are available to returning clients on an as-needed, hourly basis.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our investment advisory services focus on helping you determine an appropriate investment mix (i.e. asset allocation) for your accounts and total investment portfolio. If you hire us to provide specific advice, we will give you an asset allocation recommendation that is based on 1) the results of a risk tolerance questionnaire we give you, 2) your past behavior during volatile markets, 3) the amount of time you expect to be invested, and 4) your need (or lack thereof) to take risk to meet your stated goals.

Once we determine the target percentages for each asset class (i.e. distinct investment type) in your portfolio, we provide you with specific instructions (if you have hired us to do so) on how to reallocate your account(s) to meet the asset allocation we have recommended.

We recommend that you invest in mutual funds and exchange traded funds within your accounts, and use low-cost, passively managed index funds whenever possible. We do not provide recommendations for buying individual securities such as individual stocks or bonds but can take existing individual securities into account when giving you investment advice.

We believe in a strategic buy, hold, and rebalance investment strategy and will recommend that you take this approach with your investments. We typically recommend that you reallocate your portfolio back to the target percentages we recommended on an annual basis.

While we strive to provide you with the highest possible return for a given level of risk, we cannot guarantee that you will achieve a certain level of return or meet your investment objectives. Your investments, including your original principal, may lose value if you follow our recommendations.

Investing in mutual funds and exchange traded funds involves risks including general market risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, currency risk, and political risk, among others. Investing in index funds, in particular, exposes you to the risk of tracking error, which is defined as the fund's deviation from its stated benchmark. We encourage you to read each fund's prospectus prior to investment for a discussion of its particular risks.
